Absent Minded Julius Cotten.

Wednesday's Globe-Democrat contained the following under a double-head, relative to Julius Cotten of High Point, in this county, which will be of interest to many here who are well acquainted with the unfortunate but absent minded "Jule":

Julius Cotten, a stockman of Eldon, Mo., stopping at 2647 Olive street, lost a small grip Monday evening, for the recovery of which he offered a $50 reward yesterday. Mr. Cotten while standing at Beaumont and Olive streets, waiting for a car, set his grip, a suit case and a bundle on the sidewalk. When the car came, he got aboard with the suit case and the bundle, but forgot the grip. The latter contained a diamond valued at $100, notes payable to Mr. Cotten to the amount of $15,000 and a revolver.

OPERA HOUSE MONDAY NIGHT.

The reeling walls, the falling buildings, the wrecking of streets and avenues, are all shown from start to finish, and the dire aftermath, the conflagration, the scenes of deepest misery, mixes with great selfishness and grandest heroism, all these dramas of life and death are pictured with the unerring fidelity of the camera. The plundering ghoul, the the avenging soldiery, and the out-rush of homeless citizens, seeking only to escape from the desolation that was once their home, all these things roll on smoothly film after film. It is a spectacle once seen never to be forgotten and a spectacle few will fail to see. The matchless pictures of the great earthquake and the great fire will be displayed at Krauss' Opera House Monday night, Aug. 20.

BOYS TRY A JAIL BREAK.

Struck Sheriff With Table Leg and in the Confusion Make their Get-away—One Captured, the Other Came Back.

Sheriff Chas. E. Willson, had his first experience in a lively, premeditated jail break just before sundown Monday evening while many of our citizens were congregated about or near the court house square.

Three boys were in the county jail, Louis Richards and Frank Hawmon, and young Adams of Gladstone. Richards and Hawmon were awaiting trial for grand larceny, they being the two lads who stole chickens from Mrs. E. B. Woods here in town and from Press Silvey west of town two weeks ago, and carted their booty to Stover, selling it to Chas. Bohling and were caught at Salem by constable Moreland the next day after the theft.

The boys knew they were in for it and Richards and Hawmon conceived the idea that they would overpower the sheriff and make their escape. Adams, it seems, did not enter into their plot, as he made no attempt to escape.

They had broken the legs from a table in their cell, and when Sheriff Willson entered with their supper Hawmon attacked him with this club and the lock over the sheriff's arm and shoulder stunned him.

The sheriff had not prepared himself for such a bold attack and was thrown off his guard. He made a hasty retreat and hurried to the north door of the court house and on the outside gave the alarm. The "kids" led to the southeast with a crowd after them, Hawmon keeping the street to Geo. Ide's residence. Richards sidetracked across lots to the northeast and escaped. Len Bealand mounted a horse and caught Hawmon just as he was making a bee line for the brush.

In less than half an hour Hawmon was led back to his cell considerably winded. Richards was followed to the city limits but succeeded in eluding his pursuers.

Early Wednesday morning Sheriff Willson came to the court house and to his surprise found Richards sitting on the north steps ready and willing to turn himself over to the officer and sorry for having been a party to the jail break. Sheriff Willson was very much ungrateful over the break, and will no doubt be prepared in the future for any emergency. Had the "kids" been old and hardened criminals instead of chicken thieves it might have gone harder for the sheriff. Young Adams, who had already received a sentence, did wisely by stopping in his cell. The excitement ran high for a time.

A Hung Jury.

Tuesday evening the trial of Frank Hawmon and Louis Richards was brought up in circuit court. The charge against the two boys was grand larceny. This is the case where these two boys stole chickens at the home of Elder Woods in the northeast part of town and Press Silvey west of town and then sold them to a dealer at Stover.

The case was tried before a jury and at 8:45 Tuesday night was turned over to them. They were out until Wednesday morning when they reported to Judge Martin that an agreement could not be reached. The jury was discharged and the boys will get a new trial.

BETTER THAN THREE DOCTORS.

"Three years ago we had three doctors with our little boy and everything that they could do seemed in vain. At last when all hope seemed to be gone we began using Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy and in a few hours he began to improve. Today he is as healthy a child as parents could wish for." — Mrs. B. J. JOHNSTON, Linton, Miss. For sale by C. D. Hunter.

Picnic at Otterville.

The picnic given last Saturday at Otterville was a grand success in every particular, about 1500 lively, happy people from all over that neighborhood being present. A number of prizes had been offered by the committees in charge and the contests were highly enjoyed.

The gold watch chain offered for the oldest man on the grounds was awarded to Aaron Hupp, formerly a resident of Little Morgan, he being 87 years old. Mr. and Mrs. Hupp also secured the premium for being the oldest married couple on the ground.

August Shoup carried off the sack of flour for having the largest family on the grounds, there being eleven in the family.

The corn show was fine. Some of the stalks measured from 16 to 17 feet in length and two and a half inches through at the root end. The picnic was one of the best ever held at Otterville.

To the Teachers of the County.

The regular examination of teachers will be held in Versailles August 24th and 25th. All teachers taking divided examination must finish their work, it being the close of the year.
